Things to Know

A little preparation makes choosing a care package easier.

1. Start with the recipient. Confirm their full name, DIN, current facility and facility address.
2. Check the current rules. Review DOCCS allowable items and the receiving facility's requirements before choosing products.
3. Choose the right option. Record the SKU, quantity and any size, color or flavor. For food items, record the weight and check the applicable package limit.
4. Confirm before ordering. Check the product page for current prices and available options.
5. Use the order form. Complete the recipient, customer and item details. Cut or tear along the marked line, then mail the form to NY Approved Vendor Corp., 150 W 25th St 403 - 128, New York, NY 10001. You can also order online at nysapprovedvendor.com/shop.

Before ordering, review our package rules, shipping and receiving policy, and refund policy at nysapprovedvendor.com.

A Brief Guide to Legal & Policy Updates

A headline may not explain what has actually changed. These terms can help you understand the next step.

Bill	A proposed law. Introduction or passage by one chamber does not mean it is law. Check its official status.
Law	An enacted rule. Its wording, effective date and who it covers determine how it applies.
Court order	A direction from a judge or court. Read what it requires and who must follow it.
Court decision	A court's determination of an issue in a case. Its effect depends on the court, the issue and the individual case.
Facility procedure	Instructions for day-to-day operations, such as visits or packages. Confirm the current requirements at the receiving facility.

Check the official source, date, who is covered and any required next step. For advice about an individual case, speak with a qualified attorney.
